

Cameron Glymph

☎ 954-955-9996

✉ caglymph2026@gmail.com

📍 Tallahassee, FL

To whom it may concern,

My name is Cameron Glymph and I am a freshman at Florida State University (FSU) pursuing a double major in English (with a concentration in editing, writing, and media) and Political Science with a minor in psychology. I have aspirations to be a journalist and believe my experience in the field thus far will be of benefit to you and your publication.

In my short time at FSU, I have become involved in two significant publications. The first is Her Campus. Her Campus is a women-led online magazine that women in colleges across the country contribute to. Writing for Her Campus has allowed me to perfect my writing in AP style, and also has allowed me to write on a wide variety of topics. Additionally, in the Spring semester of 2023, I joined Her Campus' editing team, where I honed my copy editing skills very well. My experience as a writer in Her Campus has made me a very versatile composer, and my experience as an editor has given me very detail-oriented copy-editing skills.

The second significant publication I have been involved in at FSU is FSView, the award-winning student-run newspaper at FSU. I joined as a staff writer for the Arts & Culture section, where writers are tasked with finding and writing about significant cultural events on campus and in the Tallahassee community. As a staff writer, I have enjoyed covering topics relating to musical events around FSU and in the Tallahassee community. Finding the intersection between arts and social justice is also a benefit of working with the paper. Through my writing, I have been able to spotlight subjects like Native American cultural agency and disability rights. Next fall, I will be transitioning into the role of Deputy Arts & Culture editor, and I am excited to contribute to the paper and display my leadership skills in that position.

Through my experience in both of these publications, I am confident not only in my abilities as a writer and editor but as a future leader. I enjoy what I do, and am incredibly motivated not only to thrive within these publications but also in my academics, as I have maintained a 3.8 GPA despite my involvement. I hope you see the value in my skills and consider me for a position within your publication.

Best,

Cameron Glymph